

Table of contents

All blue headlines are hyperlinks in original.

In this excerpt, only the hyperlinks in the public domain will work (last page).

Chapter	Page
About the Author	7
Foreword	8
Feeding Philosophy	10
The overall perspective	10
What feeding would be like in Nature...	12
Some identified problems...	14
Meat sources		14
Vegetable sources		15
Grain products		15
Raw or cooked?		16
Additives - some good ones and some bad ones		17
Making sure the dog gets enough of everything it needs	18
The Dog's Digestive System	19
The components of a dog's digestive system	19
The mouth, including teeth, jaws, and saliva	20
The canine stomach - and how it digests food	21
The intestines and their finishing the digestion process	23
Overview of the Wolf/Dog system, compared to the Human system	27
Why 'Go Natural'?	28
Reasons for being suspicious	28
Absence of legal protection		29
Lack of education for the "experts"		30
Financial motives for health care services		30
Government regulation		32
Reasons for abandoning kibble	33
Reasons for abandoning canned food	36
Other important reasons for feeding a natural diet	36
Going "organic" or not	38
Reading Labels	40
Comparing food analyses	40
What the law says - and what it doesn't say	43
Mineral analysis		44
"Protein" and "protein"		46

Excerpt from Mogens Eliassen's book:
"Raw Food For Dogs - the Ultimate Guide for Dog Owners"

Most important ingredient first	47
What is the measure base?	48
What exactly does the label say?	49
Preservatives - and some common misperceptions	51
The chemicals that are not listed on the label...	53
Regulatory bodies and standards	55
Labeling of natural food	56
Comparative Analysis of Commercial Pet Foods to a Natural Raw Diet	59
Feeding Guide for Adult Dogs	60
Defining the goal for the feeding plan	61
Ingredients of a full meal	63
Raw meat, organs, or green tripe	63
Vegetables for carnivores	67
Bones = skeleton pieces of former live animals	68
Fat – not grease or lard	69
Other great food sources for the domesticated wolf	69
Daily supplements to the food – just to be sure...	70
Serving the food for your hunter	73
Fast days and why your dog needs them	74
Portion size, feeding time, and meal management	75
Treats - how to use them and how to make them	77
What treats you can use - and which ones you must avoid	77
Making your own treats	78
How you should give your dog a treat	79
Balancing the Diet	81
Why balancing is important	81
The three main rules of balancing	83
Using numbers with the respect they deserve	84
Understanding the ultimate objective	89
Feeding Guide for Puppies	93
What a parent wolf would do	94
A serious challenge for a serious puppy owner...	95
The overall frame of a meaningful feeding plan	97
"Puppy Supplement"	98
"Energy Supplement"	100
"Full meal"	101
Feeding schedule for your carnivore-to-be	102
How much to feed a growing puppy	103
Feeding procedure and protocol in your pack hierarchy	105
Your ultimate reference for obtaining the goal	107

Excerpt from Mogens Eliassen's book:
"Raw Food For Dogs - the Ultimate Guide for Dog Owners"

Converting to Natural Feeding	109
Problems to avoid when converting		109
Different approaches - pros and cons		111
"Cold turkey"		112
Mixing the food		113
Alternating meals		114
Choosing the right transition option for your dog...		115
Safe converting - managing the transition period		116
Approaching the ultimate feeding schedule		120
Things to look out for that could spell trouble...		122
What you can safely ignore - sometimes!		123
Vomiting		123
Loss of appetite - lethargy		125
Increased appetite		125
Diarrhea		126
Examples of Feeding Schedules and Recipes	127
Forefather Wolf's examples		128
Forefather Wolf's Summer meal plan		128
Forefather Wolf's Winter meal plan		129
Comments to Forefather Wolf's meal plans		130
Meal plan examples for adult dogs		131
Adult dog, ultimate feeding schedule A		133
Adult dog, ultimate feeding schedule B		134
Adult dog, ultimate feeding schedule C		135
Additional comments to the meal plans for adult dogs		136
Transition plans for adult dogs		138
Adult dog, simple transition plan		139
Adult dog, double-meal transition plan		141
Adult dog, extended pre-transition plan		144
Additional comments to the transition plans for adult dogs		145
Meal plan examples for puppies		146
Young puppy, 3 meals per day		148
Medium puppy, 2 meals per day		150
Juvenile adult, 1 meal per day		151
Additional comments to the meal plans for puppies		152
Storing the Food	155
Freezing - long-term storage		155
Temporary storage in a fridge		158
Non-refrigerated storage		158
Travelling with your dog		159
Checking Stool	161
Normal stool - what dog shit should be like		161

Excerpt from Mogens Eliassen's book:
"Raw Food For Dogs - the Ultimate Guide for Dog Owners"

Warning Signs you should not ignore	162
Diarrhea - and parasites		162
Added "stuff"		164
"Concrete stool"		165
Good new about free fertilizer for your garden	165
Working with Your Vet	167
Possible conflicts of interest	167
What the government educates veterinarians for...		168
Why veterinarians cannot always enjoy the rights of free speech		169
How pet food manufacturers can get veterinarians to support them		169
How veterinarians can make a living		170
Understanding your veterinarian's financial/ethical dilemma		172
Developing mutual trust	173
Spreading the news about your dog's improved health	174
Water	176
Identifying the problems	177
The problem with transportation	179
The problem with storage and distribution	181
Man-made pollution	182
How we get water that is safe to drink	183
When to use which technology	185
Can you make your water too clean?	186
Individual and temporary storage of drinking water	187
Responsible water management	189
Using this book	190
References and Resources	192

Excerpt from Mogens Eliassen's book:
"Raw Food For Dogs - the Ultimate Guide for Dog Owners"

Supplementary Articles on Dog Food and Feeding (in the public domain)

Why feeding your dog a consistent diet "on time" is a bad idea...

How you can avoid detoxification problems when shifting your dog's diet...

Why cooking of dog food can cause allergies and malnourishment...

Grain or not in a dog's diet?

Why fat in the diet isn't "bad" when you are a dog...

Why your dogs needs to fill its stomach on a regular basis

Balancing the Calcium/Phosphorous ratio in a raw diet for dogs

Why adding Vitamin C to your dog's diet is not always a wise thing to do...

The truth about Vitamin E